

Population vs. Summer Olympic Games Medal Count
(1960-2012)

Each point represents a single country's appearance at a single Summer Olympic Games.
The location of the point is determined by the country's medal count and the country's population during the year the Games took place.
Note that log scales were used for both the x and y axes due to data points which differed in many orders of magnitude.